New Easter Egg Hunt Planned for People with Disabilities

Sioux City, IA – Camp High Hopes announced today that they will be hosting a new Easter egg scavenger hunt for children, teens, and adults with disabilities. Attendees will be able to hunt for Easter eggs from 1 until 4pm on Saturday, March 26th at the camp’s barrier free facility in Sioux City.

“Hunting for Easter eggs is a rite of passage for every child,” said Camp CEO Ali Langseth. “We saw a need in Sioux City to hold an egg hunt that would be accessible to kids and adults with physical and intellectual disabilities. People with disabilities often get left in the dust while at a traditional egg hunt due to the crowds and barriers. Our Camp prides itself on adapting and making activities accessible. Our egg hunt will be done scavenger hunt style so that the participants can take their time alongside their family members as they search for eggs and candy across the camp’s many barrier-free, safe, and fun activity areas. We’ll also have opportunities for the participants to make a basket at camp if they don’t bring their own to the scavenger hunt. Thanks to the generosity of Palmer’s Old Tyme Candy Shoppe and Hy-Vee, there is no fee for this event. Since we are also holding an open house during the egg hunt, attendees will be able to try out the many adapted activities that the camp offers such as fishing, archery, and climbing the monkey tree. The open house is a great way for first time campers and families to get to know the facility, the staff, and the programs, as well as to sign up for summer sessions.”

Camp High Hopes offers individual, barrier-free recreational experiences that are fun, safe and adaptive for children, teens and adults with disabilities in the tri-state region.
