

Camp High Hopes Internship

About Camp High Hopes:

Camp High Hopes is a private, non-profit camp for people with disabilities located in Sioux City, IA. Overseen by a board of directors, our staff is comprised of 6 full-time employees, 1-2 permanent part-time employees, summer employees, per diem staff, volunteers, and interns.

Nestled in a wooded valley on the edge of town, Camp High Hopes offers program activities throughout the year to individuals with disabilities primarily from Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota. Children, teens, and adults who camp sessions might have a diagnosed disability or chronic condition such as: ALS, amputee, asthma, autism, brain injury, blind, blood disorder, burns, cancer, cerebral palsy, cleft palate, cognitive disorder, craniofacial, Crohn's Disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, Down syndrome, epilepsy, heart disease, hemophilia, Hodgkin's disease, kidney disease, leukemia, liver disease, mental disability, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, physical disability, sickle cell anemia, spinal cord injury, Spina Bifida, and stroke. Each camper is cared for by trained camp counselors and medical staff while spending a day, weekend, or week at Camp High Hopes. Camp activities are adapted for each individual camper support needs while maintaining independence through a challenge by choice model.

About CHH Internships:

Camp High Hopes offers recreational/camp-based internships in 3 primary seasons: September-December, January-April, and May-August, for a 14+ week internship period designed to meet the requirements for NCTRC. Interns will assist in assessment, planning, implementation/facilitation, and evaluation during CHH activities which are goal oriented and directed toward rehabilitation, amelioration, and/or modification of specific physical, emotional, cognitive, and/or social functional behaviors. Responsibilities may include: client assessments, progress notes, discharge plans, activity analysis, and leisure education among others. Interns will receive room and board during sessions and weekly stipend of $50 to offset additional food costs. Shared staff housing may be available and is assessed based on intern needs and housing availability.

All internships are full-time commitments without time for outside work or part-time jobs and may require a commitment to be away from home during holidays depending on the camp schedule. Interns are an integral part of the Camp High Hopes team, providing camper support and care, along with activity planning and implementation with scheduled time off between sessions. Potential interns must take these financial and personal burdens into consideration when applying.

All interns must be at least eighteen years of age, have First Aid and CPR certification and the ability to commit to an entire season. Camp High Hopes strives to create an intern staff that is self-motivated, takes initiative, and has some experience working with people with disabilities and special needs. It is helpful to have outdoor recreation skills and must have the ability to work well with people. All interns must have a strong sense of hard work, flexibility, a love of the outdoors, an open mind and a love for working with people.
